

ACTIVITY REPORT 2024

Education | Art & Culture | Healthcare

From The Desk Of The Trustees

His Holiness Jagadguru Pujyasri Shankara Vijayendra Saraswathi Shankaracharya Swamigal envisions an inclusive, progressive, and knowledge-centric society that balances spirituality with scientific advancement while deeply honoring traditional and cultural values. His mission is to protect and nurture a dharmic society where each individual is healthy, compassionate, and philanthropic, thus inspiring everyone to realize their fullest potential. Sri Pratyaksha Charitable Trust is dedicated to achieving this vision by promoting and preserving an ideal dharmic society.

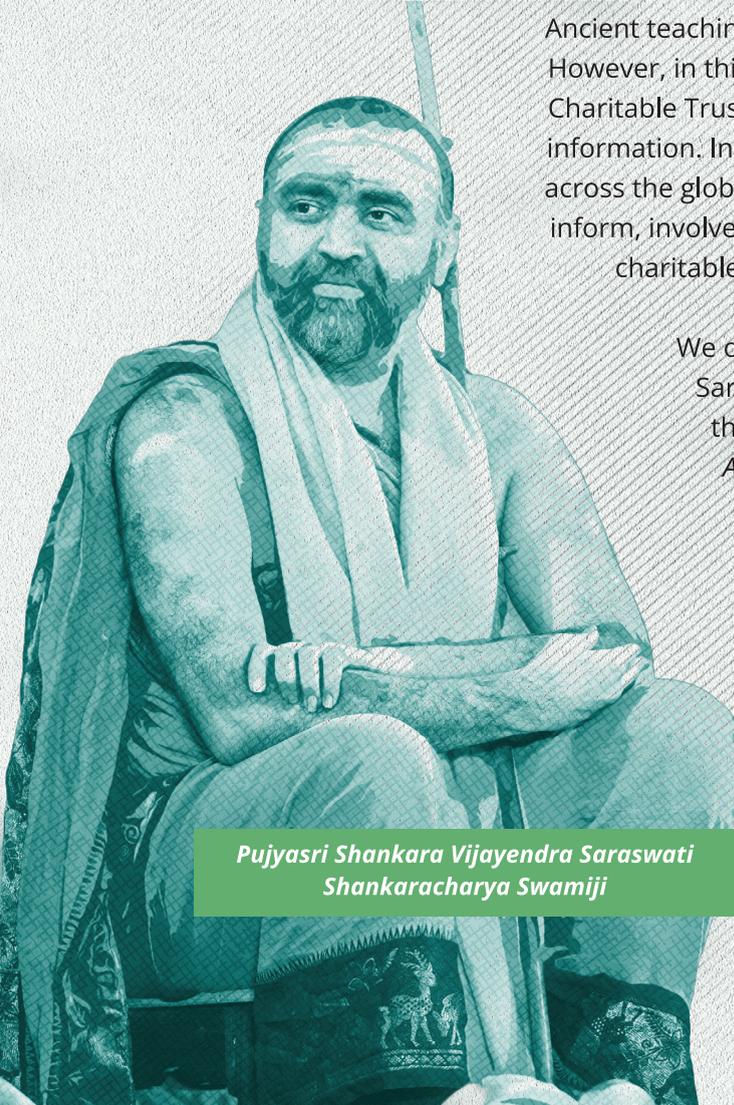

The term "Pratyaksha," a Sanskrit word, signifies that which is visible, genuine, and true. In society, we see contrasts—poverty and declining values alongside civility, progress, and opportunities for growth. Sri Pratyaksha Charitable Trust (SPCT) embodies these positive qualities, symbolizing the aspiration to elevate human thought and life.

Blessed by his Holiness, SPCT is more than just a trust, it is a broad-based movement aimed at fostering sustainable societal and national progress. It seeks to nourish knowledge and culture, bridge the gap between the fortunate and the less fortunate, harmonize technology with tradition, and cultivate values and skills for the greater good. The trust is committed to guiding society towards peace, harmony, merit, a quest for knowledge, and philanthropy.

We firmly believe that culture is the bedrock of human evolution. Our experience shows that art and culture spread joy among people. We hold that a society built solely on intellect and superficial knowledge fosters ego and creates division. Therefore, we support a wide range of programs to promote culture, unity, national pride, and happiness among a broader cross-section of society.

Ancient teachings suggest that publicizing charity diminishes its merit. However, in this context, we share the Activity Report of Sri Pratyaksha Charitable Trust not for publicity, but in the spirit of transparency and information. Inspired by the vision and blessings of his Holiness, people from across the globe are participating in the trust's activities. This report aims to inform, involve, and enlighten the public about the trust's numerous charitable endeavors.

We owe all our progress to Jagadguru Pujyasri Shankara Vijayendra Saraswathi Shankaracharya Swamigal, the driving force behind this movement. It is through his Sankalpa Shakti and Paripurna Anugraha that the trust has undertaken these activities. We earnestly pray for his guidance to provide us with strength, purity of heart, and perseverance, enabling us to realize (pratyaksha) the manifestation of His great work.

Pujyasri Shankara Vijayendra Saraswati
Shankaracharya Swamiji

Thanking you,

Best Regards

Trustees

About Sri Pratyaksha Charitable Trust

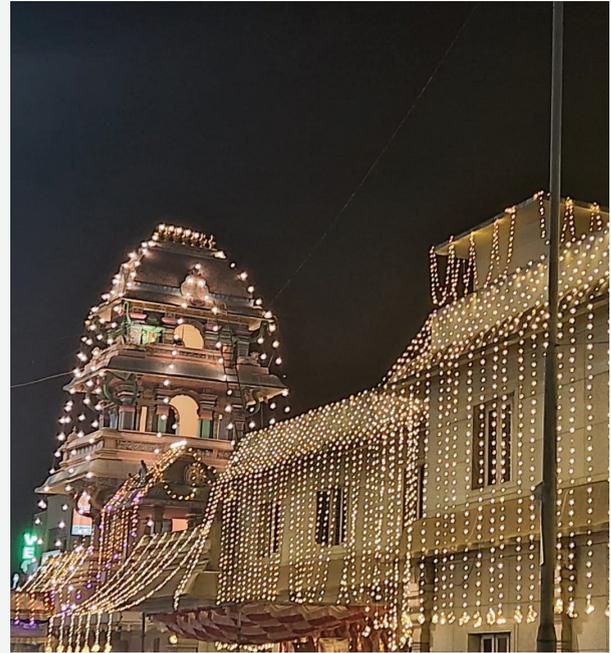

Sri Pratyaksha Charitable Trust (SPCT), established in 2008 with the divine blessings of His Holiness of Sri Kanchi Kamakoti Peetam, to preserve our rich culture, tradition and heritage. His Holiness has consistently worked to promote the unique 'unity in diversity' that defines our nation.

The trust works to uphold india's rich heritage and preserve the tenets of dharma through a series of activities and programs that cover the spheres of education, incorporating the principles from India's rich culture, values and culture coupled with new age education, social service, national integration in an inclusive way.

Dharmam Chara - Walking the Path of Righteousness

The Trust has been actively engaged in raising awareness and undertaking initiatives for a dharmic society. Webinars titled Dharmam Chara are organized to educate individuals and corporations on walking the path of dharma for the peaceful coexistence of humanity. Each year, over 200 participants from various fields attend this online event

The Trust is also deeply committed to preserving Indian values and beliefs through the medium of art and culture. Regular seminars and conclaves are held for children and youth, led by senior educators and scholars, to nurture awareness and knowledge in these areas. This report highlights the diverse activities the Trust has supported, including shramdaan (voluntary physical work), financial contributions, and other means, in its effort to promote an inclusive society grounded in Indian art, culture, and values.

The Trust is consistently providing support to various communities, particularly in rural areas. We extend our heartfelt gratitude to all donors and supporters who contribute to the noble cause of supporting Vidya, Vaidya, and Veda seva.

Educational Activities

Patashalas Managed by the Trust

His Holiness's enduring vision is to transform lives through knowledge. In line with this mission, the Trust supports educational institutions that provide quality education along with holistic development, emphasizing Indian culture, traditions, and values.

All patashalas are residential, offering top-tier contemporary education and life skills in a stress-free, culturally enriched environment.

Vision

Ensure that vidyarthi(students) in the Trust-managed patashalas become cultural ambassadors, dedicated to safeguarding and promoting the tenets of dharma, culture, and traditions for future generations, while excelling in their personal and professional lives.

Instill virtues, traditional values, cultural practices, and moral education alongside modern academics.

Provide students with opportunities to learn, grow, and excel in various skills, empowering them to become responsible citizens.

Features

Education, food, and accommodation are provided to our students free of charge. Special attention is given to ensure that the meals are nutritious and sattvic, promoting calmness, happiness, and mental clarity.

The safety of students on campus is a top priority, with 24/7 security and CCTV surveillance in place.

Classification of Patashalas

The Trust manages 37 patashalas across India and supports 4 additional patashalas through donations and mentoring. These patashalas are categorized into various types: one dedicated solely to Vedic studies and others, known as Integrated patashalas, which combine contemporary education with Vedic learning, culture, and traditions.

Full-time Veda Patashalas

The full-time Veda Patashalas play a pivotal role in preserving and promoting India's ancient Vedic traditions. These institutions are devoted to the in-depth study of the Vedas and related scriptures, fostering an environment where the timeless wisdom of these texts is passed down through generations. The patashalas emphasize both theoretical and practical mastery of the Vedas, ensuring their accurate recitation, interpretation, and application.

Some Veda Patashalas focus on the study of a specific Veda, such as the Yajur Veda, while others offer a multi-disciplinary approach. For instance:

Single Veda Specialization: Patashalas focusing on one Veda ensure that students delve deeply into its nuances, including its mantras, hymns, and associated rituals.

Multi-Veda Instruction: Institutions offering training in multiple Vedas, such as the Rig Veda and Yajur Veda, aim to provide a holistic understanding, enabling students to appreciate the interconnectedness of the Vedic texts.

The curriculum in these patashalas is designed to ensure an immersive learning experience. Key aspects include:

1. Vedic Chanting and Pronunciation: Rigorous training in precise recitation techniques, preserving the phonetic purity of the mantras.
2. Hands on Sessions: Practical guidance provided emphasizing their spiritual significance.
3. Ethics and Philosophy: Lessons in the underlying moral and philosophical tenets of Vedic teachings.

There are eight full-time Veda Patashalas, ensuring high standards of education and preserving the authenticity of the teachings. These institutions cater to 122 dedicated students, who live and learn in a traditional gurukula setting. By nurturing the next generation of Vedic scholars, these Patashalas ensure the continuity of India's rich cultural and spiritual heritage.

Integrated Patashalas

Integrated Patashalas for boys offer a unique blend of traditional Vedic education and formal academic education. Alongside their specialization in Vedic scriptures, students are taught subjects like science, social studies, environmental studies, computers, and mass communication, ensuring a well-rounded education. Language learning is also emphasized, with instruction in Sanskrit, English, and various regional languages, equipping students with the skills to engage with both traditional and contemporary knowledge systems.

Features

- Students are trained in Vedic scriptures along with fine arts, vocal music, musical instruments, yoga, Ayurveda, pooja vidhanam (rituals), slokas, bhajan traditions, pravachanam, namasankeerthanam, agamas, jyotisham, siddha medicine, purohitham, alankaram, acharam, aharam, cooking, Ramayana and more.
- Sharing of wisdom on farming techniques and compassionate practices for cow protection.
- Students attend regular school during the day and learn the specialization pertaining to that Patashala in the morning and evenings.

Sampradaya Patashala for girls

Sampradaya Patashalas for girls, integrating formal education with cultural training and traditional practices, were conceived and initiated under the directive and guidance of Sri Periyava.

Vision

1

Motivate and empower girls by providing them with suitable tools, methods, and knowledge for comprehensive and inclusive development.

2

Protect, preserve, and propagate the principles of Sanatana Dharma along with imparting modern education to girls and young women.

Offer contemporary education and life skills at no cost to girl students in a culturally rich and supportive environment.

The Sampradaya Patashalas for girls are situated in Tirupati, Pune, Hyderabad, Nashik, Vijayawada, Mehaboob Nagar, and Thiruvanaikoil, with a total strength of 664. To deliver formal academic education at these centers, the Trust has partnered with the National Institute of Open Schooling (NIOS) for grades 7 to 12, and the Andhra Pradesh State Board for senior classes. Additionally, girls can pursue higher studies in subjects like Sanskrit at the National Sanskrit University.

All Patashalas offer free education, uniforms, accommodation, and meals. Students are served balanced, nutritious, and sattvic food. Regular medical checkups are conducted to ensure the students' health, and vitamins and food supplements are provided when necessary.

To ensure students' safety on campus, round-the-clock security and CCTV surveillance are provided.

Features

- Cultural insights provided through training in music, fine arts, handicrafts, and yoga.
- Traditional practices taught through training on pooja vidhanam, celebration of festivals, and visits to temples.
- Workshops for personality development, communication skills, and experiential learning are conducted by professional experts.
- Traditional cooking and making of naivedhyam (offering to God) is taught to students as part of the curriculum. A kitchen has been set up as a lab for practical training.
- Spiritual growth is encouraged through chanting of slokas, bhajans, and pravachanams; and by reading scriptures like the Bhagavat Gita.

Students are provided with laptops or smartphones by the Trust to ensure uninterrupted education, as needed.

The Trust also offers full financial support for the treatment of any student with health issues at the Patashalas. Periodic medical camps, including eye check-ups through the Ophthalmology wing of Shankara Hospitals, Chennai, are organized for the students.

Sampradaya – Shastra Sarani

Sampradaya – Shastra Sarani, launched in Kanchipuram with just six girls, has grown to support over 90 students, empowering them with cultural values besides full-time college education. Focused on students from economically weaker sections, they are provided education along with choosing a course of their choice. Students are from semi-urban and rural areas, many of whom are first-generation learners and children of farmers, temple priests, workers, or unemployed parents, the initiative bridges the gap in access to professional courses caused by financial constraints and lack of exposure. By offering personalized career counseling and scholarships, Shastra Sarani ensures these young women can pursue their chosen educational paths. Rooted in the belief that healthy family units create a strong nation, the program is committed to developing resilient, courageous, and steadfast women leaders who, through intelligence and righteousness, can transform families and organizations alike.

Our Vision

To create empowered women by focusing on health & hygiene, providing the right education and training in best practices for holistic development, physical and mental well being.

Our Curriculum

Our holistic approach to the development of an empowered woman has 3 dimensions. The first is "Dinacharya", second the study of scriptures and learning of shlokas and the third being skill development.

1 Dinacharya

Physical and mental wellbeing is the most critical aspect of unleashing the human potential. Girls practice the traditional Indian lifestyle in food, sleep and hygiene practices on a daily basis. Their daily food routine comprises of Saatvik food, fresh fruits and nuts, cow's milk and ghee. Girls start their day at 5 AM and do yoga. They are then engaged in activities like drawing kolams, doing surya namaskaram, decorating the tulsi plant and performing puja, lighting lamp, chanting shlokas before they get ready to go to college.

2 Study of Indian Ethos

Girls study scriptures like Ramayana, Mahabharatha, Bhagavad Gita, Neethi Shathakam to understand the moral values and greatness of Indian women. Adi Shankarar shlokas, Ayurveda, Jyotisham and Sanskrit are some of the many things the girls learn during their course of study here. Study of scriptures enable one to build a strong and moral character that serves as a strong foundation to one's life.

3 Skill Development

Girls are provided training in fine arts, culinary and technical skills. Short and long term courses on Carnatic music, Veena, violin, sewing, arts & crafts, temple architecture, cooking traditional food and savories, spoken English, personality development, Microsoft office, excel, power point, tally, coding, etc are conducted to ensure girls are well equipped with all knowledge and skills required for their successful personal and professional lives.

Weekend Sampradaya Classes

Currently, Sampradaya classes for boys and girls are held on weekends, primarily for students who are unable to attend residential schools. These classes aim to familiarize the next generation with rich traditional values and instill a lasting interest in following foundational Dharmic practices regularly. Sampradaya classes are conducted online.

Nadaswaram & Kumhari Integrated Patashalas

Nadaswara Patashala was established with the aim of preserving and passing on this traditional art form to the present generation. There are two Nadaswaram institutes, one for boys and one for girls, located in Karvetinagaram. In addition to receiving Nadaswaram training, students at this Patashala also attend the Government School for their regular education.

Students are also trained in "Nattu Vaidhyam," a form of herbal medicine. Girl students receive instruction in tailoring, arts, crafts, and nursing care to help secure their future.

There are total of 4 Nadaswara Patashalas with 199 students.

Kumhari Integrated Patashalas

A new Patashala was started in 2024 with specialization in Pottery making. Currently 10 students are studying in the Patashala. Sustainable eco friendly materials are used to make these pots and hands on skills training is provided. This patashala is one of the first of its kind. The students attend regular school during the day.

Supported Patashalas

The Trust also supports 4 Patashalas by providing financial support and mentoring. These Patashalas are situated in Andhra Pradesh and Tamil Nadu. A total of 61 students are benefiting from the comprehensive education provided at these institutions.

Shri Shankara Vijayendra Saraswathi Ramayana Patashala

The Shankara Vijayendra Saraswathi-Ramayana Patashala stands as a unique educational institution dedicated to holistic learning, blending India's rich cultural heritage with modern education. Governed by the Sri Pratyaksha Charitable Trust, the Patashala emphasizes the teachings of the Ramayana - the great (history) of our Bharata Varsha, There is no aspect of Dharma that is not illustrated in the Ramayana.

Offering a CBSE-based curriculum in a fully residential environment, the Patashala requires support to expand its infrastructure. Plans include constructing a new building for student accommodations, classrooms, and facilities essential to its integrated education model. The projected construction cost is INR 2 Crores, with an additional INR 30 Lakhs needed for books, teacher support, and lodging.

Akhila Bharatha Agnihotra Sadas

Vedas are the fountainhead of knowledge. The Veda Mantras pray for the welfare of the entire creation and hence the chanting of Vedas and performance of practises therein benefits one & all. The Agnihotra is one such practise prescribed by the Vedas. The Vedic scholar has to undergo exhaustive Vedic study for a decade, follow high discipline to become eligible Agnihotri and this qualifies him to further perform Yagnyas & Ishtis which are for welfare of one & all.

Pujya Jagadguru Shankaracharya Swamigal blesses & honours this ancient tradition by holding special sessions on Agnihotra & Shrouta Practices with an objective to dispel doubts, exchange & enhancement of knowledge and expanding the upholders of this unique tradition by required patronage. SPCT supports this scholarly initiative known as Agnihotra Sadas by providing necessary facilities for scholars and participants

The akhila bharata agnihotri sadas was conducted at Orikai near Kanchipuram on Aug 9,10 and 11, 2024 ie starting on the holy day of Nagapanchami and ending on an auspicious day of Bhanu Saptami. This sadas is conducted every year in the divine presence of Sri Acharya during the chaturmasya vrata period and the location where Sri Acharya observes the chaturmasya vratam.

The country has around 150 agnihotrees and during the sadas most of them travel to the acharya's chaturmasyam vrata place and participate in the sadas which is a religious, cultural and social integration of a practice that is as old as the Vedic and Puranic days . The scholars participate in the practical demonstration, theoretical discussion and deliberation of these sessions. These are also sessions filled with prayers for universal welfare as well.

A country of 140 crore people have only 150 agnihotrees. This year the highlight was the practical IYSTI yagna performance by the Nambudrees from Kerala on the first day followed by Karnataka, Andhra, Tamil Nadu and Maharashtra agnihotrees also conducted the IYSTI yagnams on the second and third days. The Kerala Agnihotrees for the first time did this prayer ritual and demonstration outside Kerala and it was a great opportunity for the rest of the agnihotrees to witness the diversity in the fire worship methodology. A special FIRST of its Kind ALL AGNIHOTREE MAHA RUDRA YAGAM spanning over three days was performed. With special prayers offered for Wayanad disaster recovery/ restoration of world peace. Poornuhati was offered on day three of the yagnas and this was specially blessed by the Acharyas present.

Support To Vedic Higher Learning

The Vedas outline how individuals can regulate their lives systematically to make them purposeful, peaceful, and blissful. They encourage everyone to engage in Karma (actions) for personal spiritual well-being and the greater good of society. According to the Vedas, Dharma promotes both individual and societal welfare.

To underscore the importance of expanding knowledge of the Vedas and Shastras, and to disseminate this wisdom among the public while fostering interest, discourses are conducted in various locations by scholars. The Sabha organizes:

1 Vidvat Sadas

2 Veda Sammelanams

3 Vishesha Upanyasams

4 Dharma Shastra Sadas

The trust supports Vedic higher learning once a student completes his eight years basic Vedic education. There is Patasala that is planned to be started this year at Sulaimeni, near Thandalam Village. . This Patasala will focus on teaching Sastras to its resident students

Scholarship Programs

Vishwavidya Scholarship Scheme

The Vishwavidya Scholarship scheme was initiated in August 2020 under the directive and guidance of His Holiness. The program aspires to provide 'Vishwavidya' — education and knowledge for all. Through this scheme, deserving and meritorious students from all sections of society are given the opportunity to pursue higher education across various degree programs in all fields of knowledge.

The scholarship, overseen by a group of distinguished individuals and guided by His Holiness, has garnered support from various corporate and individual donors, enabling a substantial number of students to realize their higher education aspirations.

Vishwavidya scholarship program Vision 2024

- Broaden the program's reach to support more deserving students.
- Increase the number of corporate participants contributing to the cause of education.
- Continue fostering the holistic development of students to shape them into responsible citizens.
- Launch Skill Development and Mentoring Programs for the comprehensive growth of students.
- Provide Corporate Etiquette Training and Career Guidance sessions to enhance students' professional growth.
- Offer relevant training programs to deepen understanding of India's rich culture and traditions.
- Collaborate with corporates for summer internship programs leading to potential placements.
- Establish an endowment fund to sustain and support the cause.

Scholarship Schemes – Objectives

The primary goal of the scholarship schemes run by the Trust is to support and offer opportunities to students from economically disadvantaged sections of society to pursue their educational aspirations. The Trust is dedicated to fostering the holistic development of students, shaping them into responsible citizens with strong moral values and a commitment to society and the nation. The Trust also aims to instill in young people the belief that 'Manava seva is Madhava seva' — service to humanity is service to God.

Endowment programs

There is a directive to provide extensive support to Vishwavidya scholarship awardees, enabling them to pursue holistic education and develop into responsible citizens with well-rounded character and moral values. To encourage, inspire, and motivate Vishwavidya scholarship beneficiaries, three endowments have been established to support the Trust in a sustained manner.

Awards are planned to be established and presented annually to students who excel in the following categories:

Sat - Vidya Endowment

Sat - Seva Endowment

Sadacharam Endowment

To implement this program effectively and benefit numerous students, an endowment fund is required to sustain the Vishwavidya scholarship program. The Trust is seeking support from corporate and individual philanthropists to advance this cause.

Additionally, the Trust is enlisting corporate support to provide training and create an ecosystem that fosters the development of well-rounded students.

For details on how to apply for the Vishwavidya scholarship, please visit the scheme's dedicated portal at www.sripratyaksha.org/scholarship

Pension Program for Senior Vedic Scholars

The Trust operates a Pension Program for Vedic scholars across India to honor their contributions to the study of ancient scriptures. The objectives of this program are to:

- Support the scholars in their old age.
- Recognize their efforts in preserving and promoting the ancient body of Indian scriptures.

This program benefits several Vedic scholars from rural areas who have devoted their lives to teaching the Vedas and ancient scriptures.

Social Activities

The Trust invests in social capital by fostering activities such as cow protection, rural development programs, infrastructure support, healthcare initiatives, and relief work during natural calamities. These efforts aim to enhance community effectiveness through shared identity, norms, values, and networks of relationships.

Gho Samraksha (Cow Protection)

The Trust supports and maintains over 2,000 cows in goshalas (cow sheds/shelters) located in Amarkantak, Madhya Pradesh, and in Sulaimeni, Gummidipoondi, and Thandalam in Tamil Nadu. The Trust also cares for sick, injured, and handicapped cows.

Additionally, the Trust has provided cow mats to the goshalas, offering a comfortable base for the cattle while lying down or standing. These mats have not only enhanced the comfort of the animals but have also prevented joint degeneration and heel diseases like foot rot, thereby improving their overall health.

The New Kamakoti Gosala is being developed at Vedal, Kanchipuram, Tamil Nadu, along the Madras-Bangalore Highway. The Gosala is dedicated to the care and protection of cows, which are revered as the mothers of all beings, bringing happiness and prosperity to society.

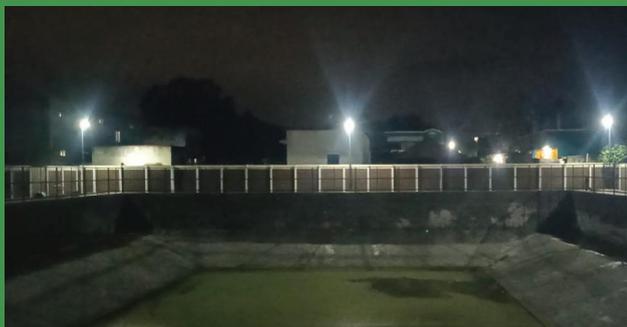

Rural Development Program and Infrastructure Support

The Trust has launched various schemes aimed at the overall development of rural areas. Initially, the Trust has identified and upgraded schools in villages and towns, providing meals and sweets to children on special occasions.

Additionally, the Trust has constructed public utility centers, public libraries, and Satsang halls for spiritual discourses, among other facilities.

A Temple Tank Renovation project has been undertaken in the rural village of Thandalam, near Periyapalayam. This initiative aims to restore the water body and create a park for the local community.

Green Cover

The Trust has been actively working to enhance green cover. As part of this initiative, it has planted saplings in the Tiruvallur district of Tamil Nadu. Additionally, a Nakshatra Vana (Garden of native plant species) is maintained to protect and preserve both native and exotic flora.

A borewell has also been drilled at Amarkantak in Madhya Pradesh to address water shortages.

Special Programs for Northeast India and Jammu & Kashmir

The Trust plays a crucial role in supporting various initiatives and programs that foster peace and development in Northeast India and the Union Territory of Jammu & Kashmir. An annual Viswashanthi yagam is conducted in Srinagar for the welfare of all living beings on Earth. These social and cultural events contribute to uniting people from different states and walks of life.

The Trust also operates a full-time Veda Patashala in Ranipool, about 12 km from Sikkim's capital, Gangtok, in Northeast India. Students from Bihar, Assam, and the neighboring country of Nepal receive teachings in the Vedas and other scriptures at this Patashala. Established in 2013, it aims to promote peace and increase awareness among young people about our rich culture and traditions.

Annadhanam

“ Annad bhavanti bhutani
(all creation is sustained due to food)

says Lord Krishna in the Bhagavad Gita. Our sacred Hindu scriptures (shastras) declare that annadaanam (feeding the poor) is the greatest virtue. Among the Trust's ongoing initiatives is providing food to those in need, especially in rural areas. Each year, on the occasion of Adi Shankaracharya's Jayanthi, the Trust organizes Annadhanam Camps in various towns and villages to serve food to the less fortunate.

Assistance in Performing Marriages

The Trust provides financial assistance and supplies essential wedding items, including the tirumangalyam, to families from economically weaker sections. This support is aimed at helping them conduct marriages, particularly for girls.

Agri Seeds Distribution – Rishi Krishi

The Trust distributed seeds to farmers from economically weaker rural communities to aid in food production and support their livelihoods. AGRI SEEDS DHANAM was given to farmers in Ayyuragaram village near Villupuram this year, marking the fourth batch of beneficiaries. This initiative falls under the Trust's Rishi Krishi program aimed at empowering farmers.

Provisions and clothing distribution

The trust initiates drive and provides raw material required to make basic food, sweets, savouries' during festivals to the needy people. 300 families have benefitted by this distribution.

The Trust also extends its support by providing basic clothing to underprivileged sections of society, ensuring their essential needs are met.

Financial Support for final rites

The Trust also extends financial assistance to those in need to help cover the costs of performing the last rites for their loved ones.

Art And Cultural Activities

The Trust has consistently been at the forefront of fostering national integration by promoting and preserving India's rich music and cultural traditions. To this end, it has undertaken various initiatives, such as celebrating jayantis, preserving ancient texts, renovating heritage structures, and maintaining temples, buildings, and satsang halls. Additionally, the patashalas and schools managed by the Trust offer students an in-depth education in and appreciation of India's diverse art forms, culture, and heritage.

Promoting Indian Music, Tradition and Culture

To preserve India's rich musical heritage, the Trust has established Nadaswara Patashalas (instrumental music schools) for both boys and girls, where students learn this traditional art form alongside their regular education and training in Nattu Vaidhyam (traditional medicine).

The Kamakoti Triveni Sangeetha Patashala in Chennai, Tamil Nadu, was founded with the mission to safeguard and promote the value of music education for future generations.

In addition to sponsoring special classical music concerts, the Trust offers financial support to children from traditional Nadaswaram families to ensure the continuation of this revered art. It also organizes cultural training camps to impart the rich principles of Indian culture through various educational events.

Maintaining and Preserving Indian Heritage Structures

The Trust has undertaken numerous initiatives to renovate temples and restore heritage structures, such as traditional Indian homes and mandaps (halls used for community activities and Vedic propagation), along with century-old buildings. Notably, two such buildings in Mayavaram and Mahendramangalam, Tamil Nadu, have been restored to their original grandeur.

In addition, the Trust maintains Vedic and cultural centers at Arani (Tamil Nadu), Machilipatnam (Andhra Pradesh), and Amarkantak (Madhya Pradesh), where Veda Parayanam, daily poojas, pravachanams, and annadhanam are regularly conducted.

With support from several philanthropists, the Trust is constructing the 'Shankara National Integration Centre' in Port Blair, Andaman and Nicobar Islands. This center aims to promote national integration while preserving and propagating Indian culture and tradition.

Jayanthi Celebrations

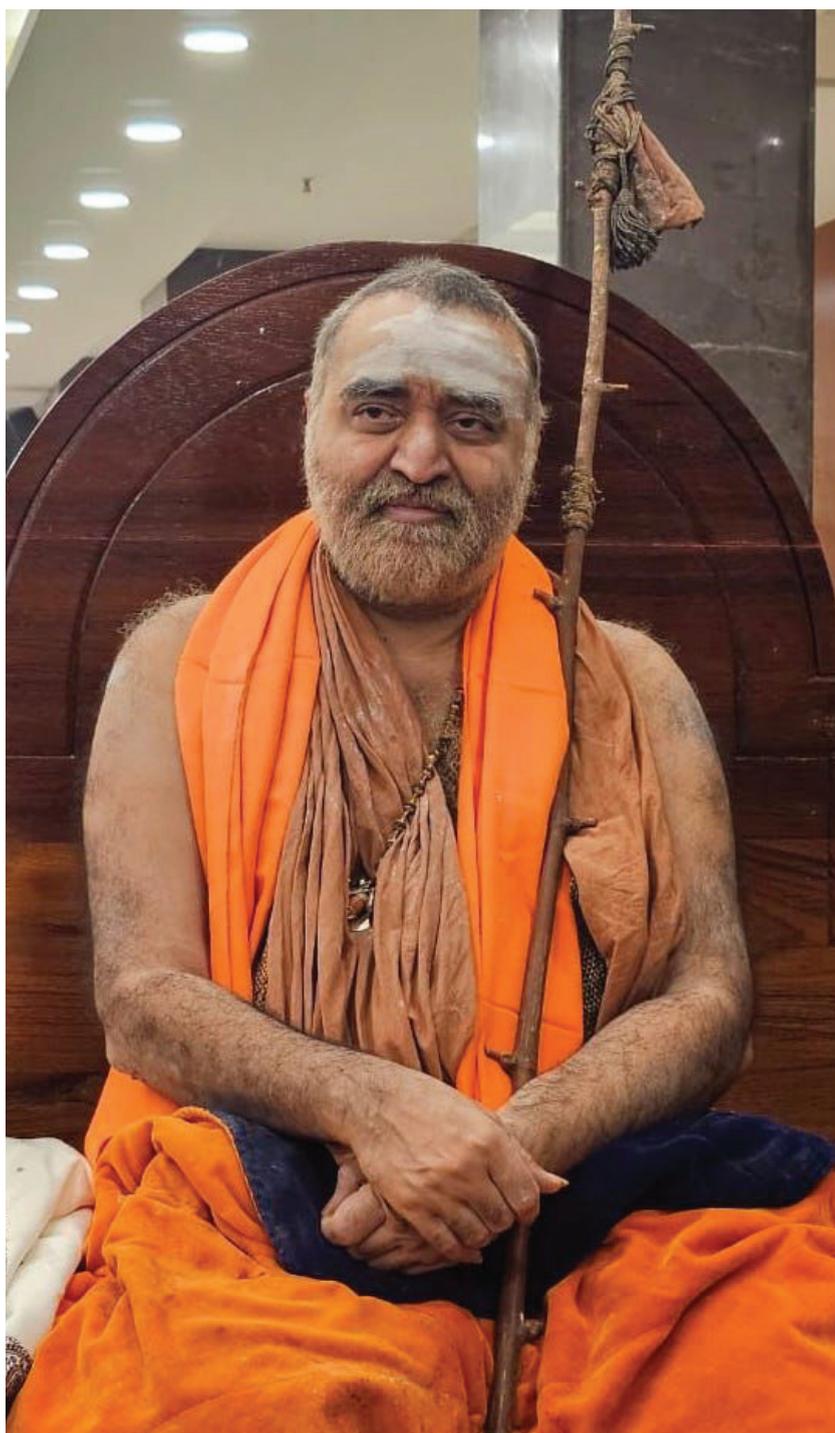

Jayanthi (birth anniversary) of the revered philosopher Jagdguru Adi Shankara Bhagavathpada, who championed Advaita Vedanta and the cause of advaita to foster unity and harmony, is celebrated all across India.

Under the gracious guidance of Pujyasri Acharyas, Shankarajayanthi has been celebrated annually at Shankaracharya Hill in Kashmir since 2012. Each year's celebration is uniquely crafted by different Veda shakhas (branches). The mahotsavam (grand festival) features a range of activities, including homam, pravachanam, shlokas, and musical performances, with participation from numerous Veda pandits and devotees who receive blessings from the Acharyas.

Additionally, the celebrations of his Holiness Jayanthi, Guru Pournima, and other festivals are carried out with great enthusiasm at various cultural centers and Patashalas.

Preserving Ancient Texts

The Trust is actively engaged in preserving ancient scriptures, palm leaf manuscripts, and rare books. To achieve this, it has established a digital library in Chennai, where scholars work to organize, archive, and disseminate the timeless wisdom contained in these ancient texts. In addition to preservation efforts, the Trust is involved in printing and publishing books and producing videos that highlight India's rich culture, heritage, and traditions.

Social Activities

Healthcare Initiatives

The Trust organizes health camps for elderly citizens and for students and their families from economically disadvantaged sections of society.

Regular health check-ups are provided to the families of students supported by the Trust, as well as to senior citizens in vrudhashrams (old-age homes).

In addition, the Trust offers financial assistance to individuals from economically weaker backgrounds to cover medical treatments and the cost of medicines.

Sri Kanchi Matam Urban Health Centre - Tirupati Free Hospital

- An OPD unit was inaugurated in July 2021 amidst the COVID-19 pandemic. Initially, it focused on general patients, and later expanded to include Dental and Ophthalmology services.
- SKMUHC primarily serves the underprivileged community, providing completely free services, including doctor consultations and medications for two days. Additional follow-up services are available as needed.
- Our Dental and Eye departments are equipped for basic check-ups and treatments. Patients requiring advanced or specialized care are referred to external clinics.
- To date this year, 28,943 patients have received free treatment.

Milestones

- The OPD license was granted by the State Health Department authority for a five-year period starting September 2022.
- Ayurvedic medicine has been introduced as an alternative option for those who prefer it.
- We have partnered with Aravind Eye Care to provide cataract surgeries for the needy at no or minimal cost, based on our recommendations and subject to certain conditions.
- We have also collaborated with Thyrocare to offer thyroid testing for patients at a very minimal cost.

28943 patients provided free treatment

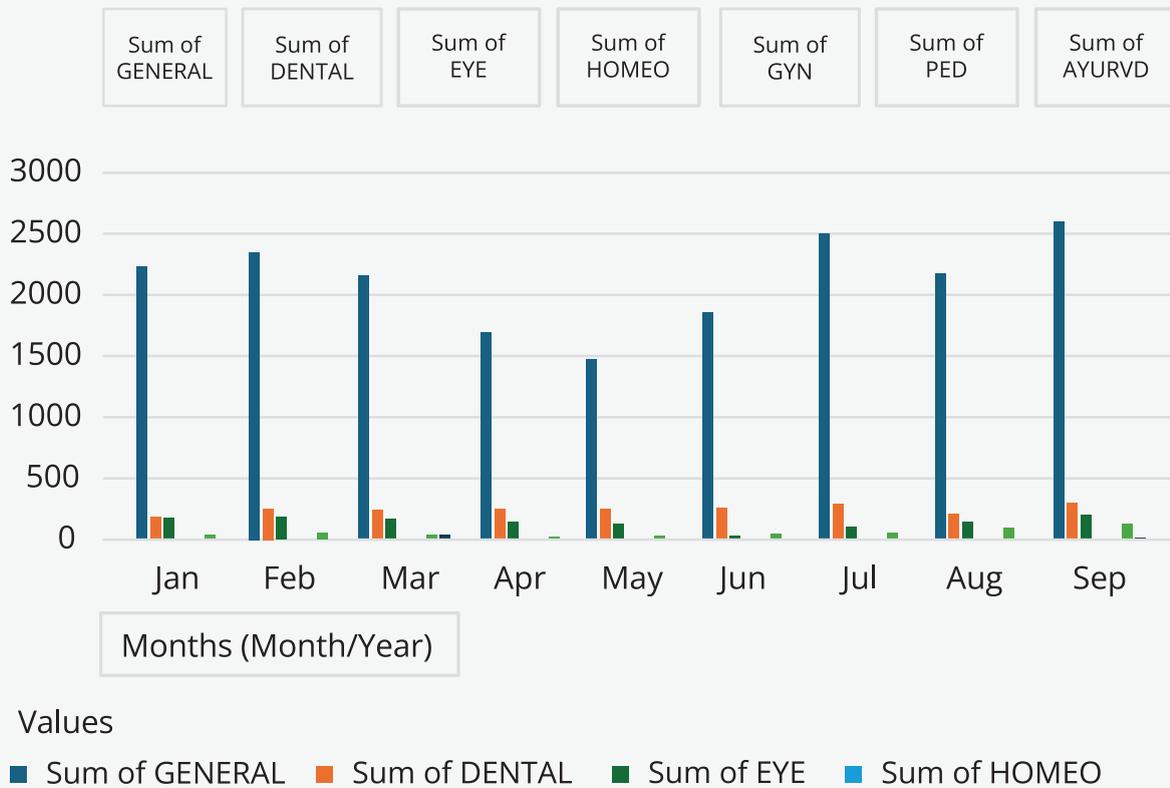

Future roadmap

- To have a small in-house lab for sugar and other blood tests.
- Introduce medical alarm for needy patients.

Deva Puja Welfare Scheme

There is an old age adage which asks one to reside in the vicinity of a temple, since temples are not only the abode of the divinity but is a centre for cultural excellence, social harmony and traditional knowledge. Environmental protection through temple tanks, Gardens and cow shed is ensured in the temples. Temples generate positive energy, instill divine feelings and soothen the minds and hearts of the devotee. Hence our sages, kings and our ancestors established these divine abodes. There are specific procedures which mention the routine worship and special occasions to be observed and method for upkeep of temple.

Pujaris, or the priests who officiate the temples play a pivotal role in its day to day running of this divine heritage. They devote their entire lives to the deity, the temple, and the society beginning their day before sunrise with Nitya Pujas and Sevas, and continuing until the temple closes in the late evening. Their duties include performing various rituals such as Abhishekam, Archana, Neivedhyam, and Deeparadhana at specific times, along with special Pujas on auspicious days like Ekadashi, Pradosham, Pournami, and Fridays, as guided by the Panchanga. In addition to these daily rituals, Pujaris conduct Pakshotsavams (fortnightly), Maasotsavams (monthly), and Samvatsarotsavams (annually, aka Brahmotsavams). They are also responsible for the upkeep and safety of the Lord's Vastras, Abharanas, Vahanas, and other sacred items.

The trust has taken upon itself the Honourous responsibility to support deserving pujaris especially living in rural areas recognizing their commitment to dharma and society, As a beginning the trust is concentrating in God's own country Kerala in implementing this welfare scheme.

- A monthly grant is given to each beneficiary under this scheme to encourage them to serve the temples, and contribute to its divinity and spirituality, resulting in overall grace and being supported at present
- Currently more than 100 Pujaris in temples from remote villages are being supported with contributions from philanthropists.
- Additionally, we plan to increase coverage to 1000 Pujaris in the next 2 years.

Objective

- The initiative aims to support meritorious and deserving archakas (priests) from rural areas across six Indian states, who are not receiving financial aid from any other organization.
- Priests from Andhra Pradesh, Karnataka, Kerala, Pondicherry, Tamil Nadu, and Telangana are beneficiaries under this program.
- The scheme is designed to assist archakas with low incomes, providing them with essential financial support to improve their livelihoods.

100

Priests are benefitted

Rs. 40

Lakhs disbursed.

This program also supports rural development by assisting archakas living in Rural areas serving rural people.

100 Priests are benefitted by this scheme with a total outlay of Rs.3,50,000 Per Month.

Contribute to this noble cause by sponsoring an Archaka/Pujari/Purohit with a donation of ₹40,000 per annum, ensuring their financial stability and supporting their sacred duties.

Members Of The Advisory Committee

A separate advisory committee was formed with the blessings of 'Pujiyashri Periyava to guide the Trust and the Scheme to ensure smooth implementation of the program.

Sanatana Dharma Seva Gramam (SDSG)

PODILI, Near Ongole, Prakasham District, Andhra Pradesh

The revival and propagation of Sanatana Dharma among the youth and future generations has become an urgent necessity. It is crucial to create the right opportunities and avenues for active participation, providing youngsters with a nurturing environment that keeps them connected to our culture.

With this vision of planting the seeds of Sanatana Dharmic values among modern youth and guiding children from an early age, Sri Kanchi Kamakoti Peetadhipati Jagadguru Sri Shankara Vijayendra Saraswati Swamiji has launched a noble and unique initiative titled 'Sanatana Dharma Seva Gramam.'

The project aims to offer a holistic platform that integrates modern education with the study of the Vedas, Shastras, and other Dharmic subjects. A comprehensive outline of the proposed plan is presented below.

Podili is located 50 KMs to the west of Ongole, on Srisailem route. It is well connected through public transportation by Rail and Road.

Learning:

Sri Kanchi Kamakoti Shankara Vidyalaya offers education for students from 6th to 12th standard, following CBSE syllabus, catering to the general public.

Sri Kamakshi Skill Development Center trains the local population in various trades such as Shilpa Kala (craftsmanship), pottery, horticulture, agriculture, tailoring, electrical work, plumbing, carpentry, arts & crafts, driving, and more.

Sri Chandrasekharendra Saraswathi Institute for Sanskrit and Vedic Studies Studies promotes Vedic education with an emphasis on Sanskrit and Sanatana Dharma.

Sri Shankara Advaita Research Center facilitates research on various aspects of Vedas, Vedangas, and Upanishads, and houses an extensive library.

Living:

A fully equipped Sri Shankara Hostel provides accommodation for Vedic students and Adhyapakas (teachers), with a kitchen and dining facility adhering to Vedic standards and modern utilities. Each room accommodates three students, with a total capacity of more than 100. Classrooms for Vedic teaching are named after the Sapta Rishis, and the halls, auditoriums, and exam rooms are named after great Indian saints. Additionally, there is a guest house for visiting Vedic scholars and faculty.

Sri Jayendra Saraswathi Health Center offers outpatient services to the local population and healthcare for students in the project complex.

We invite your generous support for this meaningful initiative. You may choose to make a one-time contribution or opt for a monthly donation of a fixed amount.

Cultural Infrastructure:

Goshala: A fully operational Goshala dedicated to breeding and nurturing rare Indian cows, with a special focus on the protection and care of aged cows.

Yagasala: A facility for training individuals in performing various Homas and Yagas, preserving traditional rituals.

Pushpa Vatika: A garden with a special focus on Nakshatra Vanam, featuring plants corresponding to each of the 27 stars from Ashwini to Revathi.

Yoga Center: A dedicated space for yoga practice, along with an indoor sports room for recreational indoor games.

My parents struggled financially to educate me. I was also a beneficiary of a scholarship during my college days. I was looking out for opportunities to give back to society, but it is difficult to go around individually and identify deserving students. So, the best thing is to share our small contribution with reliable institutions whose capabilities, genuineness, and integrity are beyond any doubt. I feel blessed to have gotten the opportunity to contribute to the Sri Pratyaksha Charitable Trust. The most impressive part is that the Trust supports and encourages study in Sanskrit and Tamil literature, which I regret for having missed out.

An Appeal

The work of this magnitude requires participation of several individuals, organisations and corporates. We appeal to such like-minded people to contribute their might in taking up the cause of education, culture and social development which is the core working area of the trust. Also we are seeking funds for construction of the project buildings. While the trust acknowledges the contributions of devotees and philanthropists, which has so far enabled it to implement these noble causes, we appeal to one & all to continuously support it in the future too.

Needless to mention philanthropy is such an act which spreads happiness & fulfilment and our Trust with the benign blessings of His Holiness has taken up such causes where donors, beneficiaries and organisers who manage the charitable causes derive immense 'Atma Trupti' self-satisfaction and 'Punya' merit. Our activities are also aimed at primarily preserving the innate nature our nation thereby promoting Desha Bhakti.

We once again appeal to one & all to contribute their might in this noble cause.
